

Dear Nagavi.

We are currently trying to take backup of your website from the old server. With respect to this the domain will remain temporarily on the old server (but not available online). It is also noted that you have been allotted a new domain which is working good. We will make the necessary changes at the earliest & bring back sneaktk.com online so that you can utilise it.

We apologise for the inconvenience been caused. We will keep you posted with the updates.

Thank You
RICHESD Team